The equivalent Internal Rate of Return on a bond from purchase to sale

The annual income on a bond as a percent of the base price of the bond

The full set of price & yield combinations for a bond at one point in time.

The equivalent Internal Rate of Return under the assumption of semi-annual compounding something I barely remember from calculus class

Negligible evidence of debt

The illusion that the return on the bond does not depend on reinvesting the income flow at the same rate

Internal Rate of Return on a bond if all payments are made as contractually specified when the price equals the face value of the loan risk that the price of the bond will fall and it can be modified risk that coupon payments paid out of the bond cannot be reinvested at the same yield

Coupon Rate

fee charged by a lender as a percent of the amount of the loan positioning a fixed income portfolio to protect against adverse effects of interest rate changes date on which the load is due price sensitivity to changes in yields
