

Celebrating American Music Month

Co-Founder of Compass Records

Talks About

Opportunities and Challenges for Women in the Music Industry

For Students, Music Teachers, and Faculty

November 17, 2004
11:00-1:00

Monsanto Room
ACES Library
1101 S. Gordon Street
University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign

Learn about the music industry from one of Nashville's favorite musicians, Alison Brown, former investment banker with degrees from Harvard and UCLA, internationally recognized banjoist who toured with Alison Krauss and Union Station and Michelle Shocked before forming her own group, The Alison Brown Quartet, and co-founder of the internationally recognized independent recording label, Compass Records (http://www.compassrecords.com/artists_abq.html). For further information contact either Becky Smith at 217-244-0388 or Scott Schwartz at 217-244-9309.

Sponsored by the University of Illinois, School of Music, University Library, ACES and Business and Economics Libraries, and the Sousa Archives and Center for American Music.

Preserving America's Music for the Future