Approved James Scholar Program Leadership Options Academic Year 2017-2018

Developing leadership skills is an essential part of being a James Scholar student. To help hone these skills, James Scholar students must complete one leadership activity per academic year. These leadership opportunities include:

- I-Program through Leadership Center
- Work towards and/or earn a Leadership Certificate
- Become Market Information Lab Certified
- Attend the Sleeman Leadership Institute (if not previously attended)
- Leadership in a College of Business Registered Student Organization represented on the Council of Presidents. Find the list of organizations here: https://business.illinois.edu/cop/organizations/
- Successful participation in Illinois Business Consulting. Contact James Noonan, Associate Director of IBC jnoonan2@illinois.edu
- Participation in the Investment Banking Academy in the Department of Finance. Contact Ms. Courtney Von Holten, cvonholt@illinois.edu
- Participation in the Finance Academy in Department of Finance. Contact Ms. Courtney Von Holten, cvonholt@illinois.edu
- Participation in the Investment Management Academy in the Department of Finance. Contact Ms. Courtney Von Holten, cvonholt@illinois.edu
- Membership in the Hoeft Technology and Management Minor. Contact John Quarton, Director of Technology and Management, quarton@illinois.edu
- Work as a research assistant for a faculty member in the College of Business. Contact James Scholar Executive Committee at jamesscholarexec@gmail.com